HEADCOUNT BOARD MEMBERS INCLUDING BOB WEIR, MARC BROWNSTEIN & PETE SHAPIRO ‘DOING LUNCH’ WITH SUPPORTERS

Bidders can win a private lunch with former White House Chief-of-Staff, a co-founder of Bonnaroo and other leaders in music, politics and business

NEW YORK, NY – Want to have lunch with the Grateful Dead’s Bob Weir at his Sweetwater Music Hall in California? Or with the Disco Biscuits bassist Marc Brownstein in Philadelphia? How about breaking bread with former White House Chief-of-Staff Peter Rouse in Washington DC, or music entrepreneur Peter Shapiro in New York? They are all members of the board of directors of the non-profit voter registration organization HeadCount, and they’ll be sitting down for private lunches with supporters of the cause.

Visit www.HeadCount.org/lunch for more information or to bid.

Each HeadCount board member is participating in the CharityBuzz.com “Executive Lunch” series, which lets anyone bid on having lunch with a top leader in business or—in this case—politics and music. Other heavy hitters on the board include Andrew Dreskin, founder of the ticketing service Ticketfly that was just acquired by Pandora; former White House aide and current VICE Media COO Alyssa Mastromonaco; SiriusXM DJs Stef Scamardo and Jonathan Schwartz; Bonnaroo co-founder Rich Goodstone; and John McCrea—front man of the band CAKE and founder of the Content Creators Coalition.

The bidding runs through December 2nd and starts at just $200 for each auction - barely the cost of a nice business lunch!

This is the first time HeadCount has run a lunch-series auction with its Board of Directors. “HeadCount is lucky to have a board filled with successful people from all walks of life, be it music, or finance, or politics” said HeadCount Executive Director Andy Bernstein. “Every time I meet with our board I am blown away at their knowledge, insight and most of all, their warmth. We felt like this would be a great opportunity to share their expertise with the world, and raise a little dough.”
