

GEORGIA UNITED STATES SENATE RUNOFF

Stay loud and turn out to vote on January 5, 2021

WHAT'S AT STAKE?

CONTROL OF THE UNITED STATES SENATE

The majority party decides which laws get a floor vote — health care, taxes, COVID-19 relief, climate policy, marijuana legalization... all of it comes down to two Senate races in the Peach State.

WHO'S ON THE BALLOT?

David Perdue vs. Jon Ossoff

Raphael Warnock vs. Kelly Loeffler

CHALLENGES:

- Turnout for runoff elections is usually very low.
- This race will be tainted by money. An estimated $500M in spending.
- Voters may lose three or four days of early voting due to the holidays (Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, New Years Eve, New Year's Day).
- Nearly all voters that previously requested mail-in ballots must submit new requests to receive runoff ballots in the mail.*

* Mail-in voters that are in the military, are over 65 or are disabled do not need to reapply for a mail-in ballot.

WHY IS THERE A RUNOFF?

In Georgia, a candidate must receive 50% of the vote to win. No candidate did this year, so they are headed to a runoff election.
